

Jim's Trees Needs you!

Jim's Trees began in 1997, as an extension of the already successful Mowing division. Jim's identified a need in the Arboricultural industry for experienced and trained professionals.

Although Jims Trees Franchisees are now operating in all states of Australia, many more Franchisees are required. Work is easily generated, infact many clients are informed that we are unable to quote to service their needs.

Franchisees decide themselves when and where they would like to work; there is no restriction on the Franchisee. Franchisees are encouraged to develop a large business, by putting on extra employees, trucks, chippers and trailers. There are no extra payment to Jims for growing your business to multiple trailers and employees.

Industry newcomers enjoy the following benefits

- Theoretical and practical initial training
- Ongoing training
- Comfort of a $1,000 per week work availability guarantee
- Support and guidance in quoting, sales, and running a business
- Easy transition into owning their first small business
- Advice on bookkeeping and computer requirements.

Experienced contractors and arborists benefit from

- Not having to advertise – all work is sent to Franchisees from a central call centre, work is from the suburbs of the Franchisees choice
- Cost efficiencies achieved from having 2,600 Franchisees, including insurance, computers and mobile phones
- Developing within a large organization, with scope for development into training or Master Franchise roles. Some Master Franchise opportunities exist in Australia, N.Z. and overseas.
- Growing a Super Franchise, whereby operators are able to project manage multiple trucks and staff
- Developing good will and equity into the business
- Being involved with a network of Franchisees, with a range of skills and equipment

* Jim's Trees require more Franchise owners in all states of Australia.
